THE STUDIO

We take the opportunity of the 60th anniversary of the school to expand our research field and organize a series of workshops at the Lecoq Lees studio.

The studio, imagined by Fay Lees and Jacques Lecoq in the nineteen's, develops different creative activities linked to the school's pedagogy and the LEM (Laboratory for the study of movement – department of scenography of the school).

At only one hour distance of Paris, located in the Vexin countryside, this space regularly welcomes in residence companies such as : Footsbarn theatre, GRRR company (Susana Lastreto), Remote control, Manifesto Poetico.

These workshops bring together theatre and plastic arts. Taking into account today's cultural context valorising creative interaction, we propose a total immersion experience in the form of full-time workshops.

THE WORKSHOPS

Passions, Characters and Situations

17th to 21st of July 2017

With Pascale Lecoq, François Lecoq and Carlos García Estévez

This workshop proposes an encounter between play and its plastic transposition. It concerns young artists whatever their artistic discipline may be. (theatre, graphic arts, writing...). We will explore human passions as a driving force for the actor, going through mimo-dynamics and plastic transpositions : drawing, constructions, etc...

Experience and understanding the space in which passions evolve permits to imagine the characters.

Our approach includes:

- Physical preparation and movement analysis
- Improvisation
- Awareness of play in a given space / space constraints
- Creation of costumes (shapes, colours...)

This workshop is given in French.

Possibility of translation into English, Spanish and Italian.

Tariff: 850 euros/ 6 hours a day, including food and accomodation.

AFDAS payment possible.

Arrival on Sunday, 16th of July. Departure on Saturday 22nd.

To apply: please send your CV, letter of motivation and ID photo to:

ADDITIONAL WORKSHOP BY OUR GUEST COMPANY : MANIFESTO POETICO

MASK 3D

10th to 14th of July

Carlos García Estévez with the participation of Pascale Lecoq

This workshop relates to all styles and territories of theatre, as it deals with the permanencies of perspective, three dimensionality, abstraction, transposition and composition. We will practice the observation of reality and explore a language to speak about movement, space and time. Mask performance will be our vehicle for this study.

Our approach includes:

- Improvisation
- Movement technique, musicality and timing
- Construction of your own mask and trying it out in a theatre context
